Predictors of Attachment to God

Research team contacts

Principal Researcher: Chantelle Warren  Psychology Postgraduate student
Associate Researcher: Esben Strodl  Senior Lecturer and Supervisor

School of Psychology and Counselling, Queensland University of Technology (QUT)

What is the purpose of the research?

The purpose of this research is to investigate if the relationship between a person’s experiences and beliefs about other humans relates to a person's experiences and beliefs about God/a deity.

Are you looking for people like me?

The research team is looking for males and females over the age of 18, who are willing to discuss their experiences with religion through an online survey. You do not need to be religious to participate in this survey.

What will you ask me to do?

Your participation will involve completing an online survey that is expected to take between 10 to 15 minutes.

Are there any risks for me in taking part?

The research team does not believe there are any risks beyond normal day-to-day living associated with your participation in this research.

It should be noted that if you do agree to participate, you can withdraw from participation at any time during the project without comment or penalty.

Please note that non-identifiable data collected in this project may be used as comparative data in future projects or stored on an open access database for secondary analysis.

Are there any benefits for me in taking part?

It is expected that this project will not benefit you directly. However, it may benefit the scientific community in better understanding why some people have stronger attachments to God than others. The findings from this study may assist the development of future counselling interventions for those wishing to improve their attachment to God.

Will I be compensated for my time?

No, but we would very much appreciate your participation in this research.

I am interested – what should I do next?

If you would like to participate in this study, please follow this link: https://survey.qut.edu.au/f/181019/128a/

Thank You!

QUT Ethics Approval Number: 1400000576