

Invest in the health professionals of the future

Sponsor a QUT health student prize, bursary or scholarship

The QUT Faculty of Health offers a range of scholarships, bursaries and prizes to domestic and international students that recognise high academic achievement, clinical excellence and contributions to the QUT community, as well as provide support in cases of financial hardship or educational disadvantage, and towards the cost of undertaking placements.

Sponsored by corporate partners and philanthropic donors, these awards are a great way for organisations and individuals to impact the future of QUT health students, while gaining access to the next generation of health professionals. Student award recipients value and benefit from the recognition, as well as the opportunity to engage with industry.

How can you or your business benefit from sponsorship?

- > Recognise and reward outstanding student excellence and achievement.
- > Invest in the future of health professionals.
- > Build awareness about your organisation within the student body.
- > Engage with the student award recipient.
- > Gain early access to high-calibre students.
- > Get involved in sponsored teaching opportunities.
- > Develop a partnership with QUT Faculty of Health.
- > Attend the annual QUT Health Student Awards Ceremony.
- > Receive invitations to special events and networking opportunities.

QUT Health has made it easy and rewarding for you to sponsor a student prize, bursary or scholarship, with varying options to suit your goals and budget for your sponsorship. Each of the faculty's schools have different priorities and needs for their students, as well as different strategic opportunities which may be available.

Choose your level of support

Student prize	Student bursary	Student scholarship
Investment: $1,000	Investment: $5,000	Investment: $10,000+
Provided in recognition of academic excellence or achievement	Provided to support and enhance the student experience (i.e. placements)	Provided to support the cost of completing a tertiary qualification

Alternatively, we can tailor something that suits your needs. Prizes, bursaries and scholarships can be provided in the form of cash and/or non-cash awards (including professional memberships, conference attendance, vouchers, etc).

For more information on prize, bursary and scholarship sponsorship opportunities, contact us at health.engage@qut.edu.au

the university for the real world®