

ELLC End of Life Law for Clinicians

A free online training program for general practice

End of Life Law for Clinicians (ELLC) is a free online training program for all General Practitioners, GP Registrars, Practice Managers and Practice Nurses about Australian law on end of life decision-making. Knowing end of life law can help general practices manage legal issues in practice, and deliver optimal end of life, palliative, primary and aged care.

Learn about:

- › The role of law in end of life care
- › Capacity and consent to medical treatment
- › Withholding and withdrawing life-sustaining medical treatment
- › Advance Care Planning and Advance Care Directives
- › Substitute decision-making for medical treatment
- › Legal protection for providing pain and symptom relief
- › Children and end of life decision-making
- › Futile or non-beneficial treatment
- › Urgent treatment for adults
- › Managing conflict
- › Voluntary assisted dying
- › Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander Peoples and end of life law
- › Inclusive end of life decision-making with people from diverse populations

Meet safety and quality standards

ELLC's online training modules can support general practice accreditation and meeting quality and safety standards.

Find out more in our primary care guide.

Gain CPD hours

The online modules are an RACGP-approved CPD activity under the RACGP CPD Program (total of 11 CPD hours). This event has been accredited in the 2023–2025 ACRRM PD Program for 8.5 Educational Activity hours and also 2.5 Performance Review hours. CPD may be claimed from other professional organisations. Certificates of completion are available.

Register at ellc.edu.au

Enrol in the course most relevant to your discipline. Clinical practice managers should enrol in their area of clinical expertise; non-clinical practice managers should enrol in the Medical Practitioner course.

ELLC is funded by the Australian Government Department of Health. It is administered by the Australian Centre for Health Law Research, Faculty of Business and Law, Queensland University of Technology (QUT), in partnership with the Faculty of Health, QUT. For more information contact endoflifelaw@qut.edu.au