Camera surveillance operates on campus for community safety purposes and in accordance with the Information Privacy Act 2009 (Qld). Footage will be accessed by persons authorised to do so and may be provided to the Queensland Police Services for law enforcement purposes. Enquiries should be directed to the QUT Central Monitoring Station by calling 3138 5585.

QUT acknowledges the Turrbal and Yugara, as the First Nations owners of the lands where QUT now stands. We pay respect to their Elders, lores, customs and creation spirits. We recognise that these lands have always been places of teaching, research and learning.

QUT acknowledges the important role Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people play within the QUT community.

This campus is three kilometres north of the Brisbane CBD, a location that ensures QUT has strong links with business, industry and government. The Kelvin Grove campus is part of the Kelvin Grove Village which gives the campus a bustling community feel and provides access to a broad range of services and facilities.

Here at Kelvin Grove you will find approximately 20,000 students studying communication, creative industries, design, education, justice and health.

Please respect our current students and workplace health and safety, and do not enter classrooms, labs, etc. when touring the campus.

Stop 1–F Block

Here you will find:

- 480-seat lecture theatre (Level 5)
- outdoor amphitheatre which regularly hosts student events and performances
- 24-hour computer lab (Level 5)
- 500-space carpark (Levels 1–4).

Stop 2–C Block/community building

The community building provides a mix of retail, hospitality and support services for students. Within this building you will find:

- counselling, financial assistance, accommodation, language and learning support, and international student services
- The Grove campus bar
- QUT Student Guild offering services to students including the facilitation of QUT clubs and sporting teams, student advocacy and the hosting of social events
- QUT Bookshop
- a post office and general store featuring a lolly shop
- a number of food and beverage outlets.

Stop 3–A Block and B Block

A Block is associated with teacher education and was home to the original Queensland Teachers' Training College, which opened in 1914. Education students can drop into the Student Support Office to seek assistance for any study or administrative advice.

B Block is where you'll find classrooms for education students where they practise their skills on campus before going out on prac.

Stop 4—R Block (HiQ and library) and D Block

HiQ—which is open six days a week—is the first point of call for students needing enrolment, study or IT assistance. Student concierges assist current and prospective students, with specialist staff on hand for any complex enquiries.

The library is open 24 hours a day during semester and provides access to:

- books, DVDs, eBooks and online journal articles
- study spaces, casual reading areas, meeting rooms and silent study areas
- free study skills workshops and one-on-one academic consultations for students
- printing services for scanning, binding, laminating and printing
- a 24-hour computer lab.

D Block is home to the Oodgeroo Unit—QUT’s Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander student success centre. The Oodgeroo Unit is accessible 24 hours a day and includes tutoring rooms, computer labs and a kitchen.

Stop 5—E Block

QUT’s Education Precinct contains five levels dedicated to world-class teaching. There are study pods, community spaces, bike parking and a garden atrium area.

A centrepiece of the precinct is the Sphere—a digital LED globe suspended over two floors with a changing menu of innovative visual content. With access to the technologies incorporated throughout the precinct, QUT education students will be equipped to thrive in a rapidly changing digital world and ready to incorporate technologies into their teaching.

Stop 6—S Block and Kelvin Grove Busway Station

If you look down the stairs next to S Block you can see the Kelvin Grove Busway station, linking the campus to the CBD and suburbs via the Inner Northern Busway.

Looking down Ring Road to the left you will find:

- O Block—home to lecture theatres and classrooms for the Faculty of Health. It houses large kitchens that are used by nutrition and dietetics students where they cook and experiment with food. It also features facilities used by both our clinical exercise physiology students and exercise and movement science students. These include the motor control, biomechanics, and strength and conditioning laboratories.
- P Block—home to QUT College, which provides programs for students who are looking for a pathway to university. Students can undertake diplomas and undergraduate certificates in a range of study areas, bridging programs and English language programs.
- J Block—our state-of-the-art sports complex includes a football field, athletics track, seminar room and change room facilities.

- N Block—home to the School of Nursing with teaching spaces and nursing labs set up like real hospital wards. It houses the Clinical Simulation Centre which is used primarily by nursing and paramedic students, giving them the chance to use simulation equipment to practise their skills.

Stop 7—H Block

H Block is home to a 120-seat wet lab where undergraduate students participate in lab activities for microbiology, immunology and basic molecular biology units.

Direction details: continue down Ring Road to intersection with Victoria Park Road.

Stop 8—Iglu, Kelvin Grove

Iglu Kelvin Grove is a purpose-built student village offering fully furnished, self-contained apartments. Amenities at Iglu include an on-site gym, café and study spaces. Iglu is one of a number of student accommodation facilities close to campus. Visit qut.edu.au/accommodation

Direction details: continue down Blamey Street and cross at intersection at Musk Avenue.

Stop 9—Q Block

Q Block is home to a QUT research facility which houses Australia’s most creative minds in health, science and biomedical engineering. This facility runs research programs in injury prevention and rehabilitation, tissue bio-regeneration, tropical crops and bio-commodities, and vision improvement.

Direction details: continue down Musk Avenue.

Stop 10—44 Musk Avenue and Kelvin Grove Village

44 Musk Avenue houses QUT Health Clinics which offer services to students, staff and the general public. Our health students deliver many of these services under the supervision of qualified professionals. More than 100,000 placement hours are completed by our students in this facility each year. Within this building you will find:

- optometry, exercise physiology, podiatry, nutrition and dietetics, psychology and counselling
- QUT Medical Centre.

The building also includes a YMCA Fitness and Aquatic Centre and 25m indoor heated pool, as well as a sporting stadium used by exercise and movement science students.

Directly across from 44 Musk Avenue is the centre of Kelvin Grove Village. Within the village you’ll find a Woolworths supermarket and a variety of retail shops and eating outlets.

Direction details: take the glass lift near the corner of Musk Avenue and Carraway Street to Level 4. Turn right when exiting the lift and make your way towards building Z3.

Stop 11—Creative Industries Precinct

The Creative Industries Precinct was Australia’s first site dedicated to creative experimentation and commercial development in the creative industries. It brings together interactive performance, exhibition and production spaces, high-tech learning areas and research facilities.

Within this area of the precinct you will find:

- Z1 incorporating The Roundhouse Theatre—a 400-seat, in-the-round theatre and home of La Boite Theatre Company
- Z3 and Z5 Sheds—containing specialist equipment for fashion students including textile printing and drawing studios, sewing machines, a computer assisted design (CAD) lab and facilities for pattern making and dyeing
- Z6 The Hub—for students studying communication and film, screen and new media production. The building features editing suites, dressing rooms, a news room and a 200m<sup>2</sup> film and television studio.

Direction details: walk across Musk Avenue from the street front of Z6 The Hub to Z9 (stop 12).

Stop 12—Creative Industries Precinct

The $80 million second stage of the Creative Industries Precinct features heritage-restored spaces and a six-storey building housing world-class dance, drama, music and visual arts studios. Some of the facilities housed within Z9 include:

- three large dance and movement studios
- two acoustically isolated ‘box-in-box’ recording studios
- sound-proofed rehearsal areas
- performance and presentation spaces.

Within the remainder of the buildings at this stop you will find:

- exhibition and gallery spaces
- a construction workshop outfitted with wood and metal-working equipment for visual arts students
- an animation and digital studio featuring graphic tablets allowing students to hand draw directly in the digital domain.
