The Rhodes Scholarships

Every year 9 Australian Rhodes Scholars are elected (95 from around world).

They are part of a tradition that started in Australia in 1903.

They join a community of nearly 8000 Rhodes Scholars worldwide.

Selection Criteria: What are the Panels looking for?

Literary and scholastic attainments

Energy to use one's talents to the full

Truth, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy for and protection of the weak, kindness, unselfishness and fellowship

Moral force of character and instincts to lead, and to take an interest in one's fellow beings

Selection Criteria: What are the Panels looking for?

Literary and scholastic attainments

- First class honours required
- Other evidence such as prizes, awards, publications

Selection Criteria: What are the Panels looking for?

Energy to use one's talents to the full

- What do you do outside the classroom?
- What are you passionate about and how have you pursued those interests?
- Sport is an example but only one way to demonstrate this criterion

Selection Criteria: What are the Panels looking for?

Truth, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy for and protection of the weak, kindliness, unselfishness and fellowship

- What do you stand for? What are your principles?
- Part of this is evidenced by your service to the community

Selection Criteria: What are the Panels looking for?

Moral force of character and instincts to lead, and to take an interest in one's fellow beings

- How do you demonstrate leadership?

Selection Criteria: What are the Panels looking for?

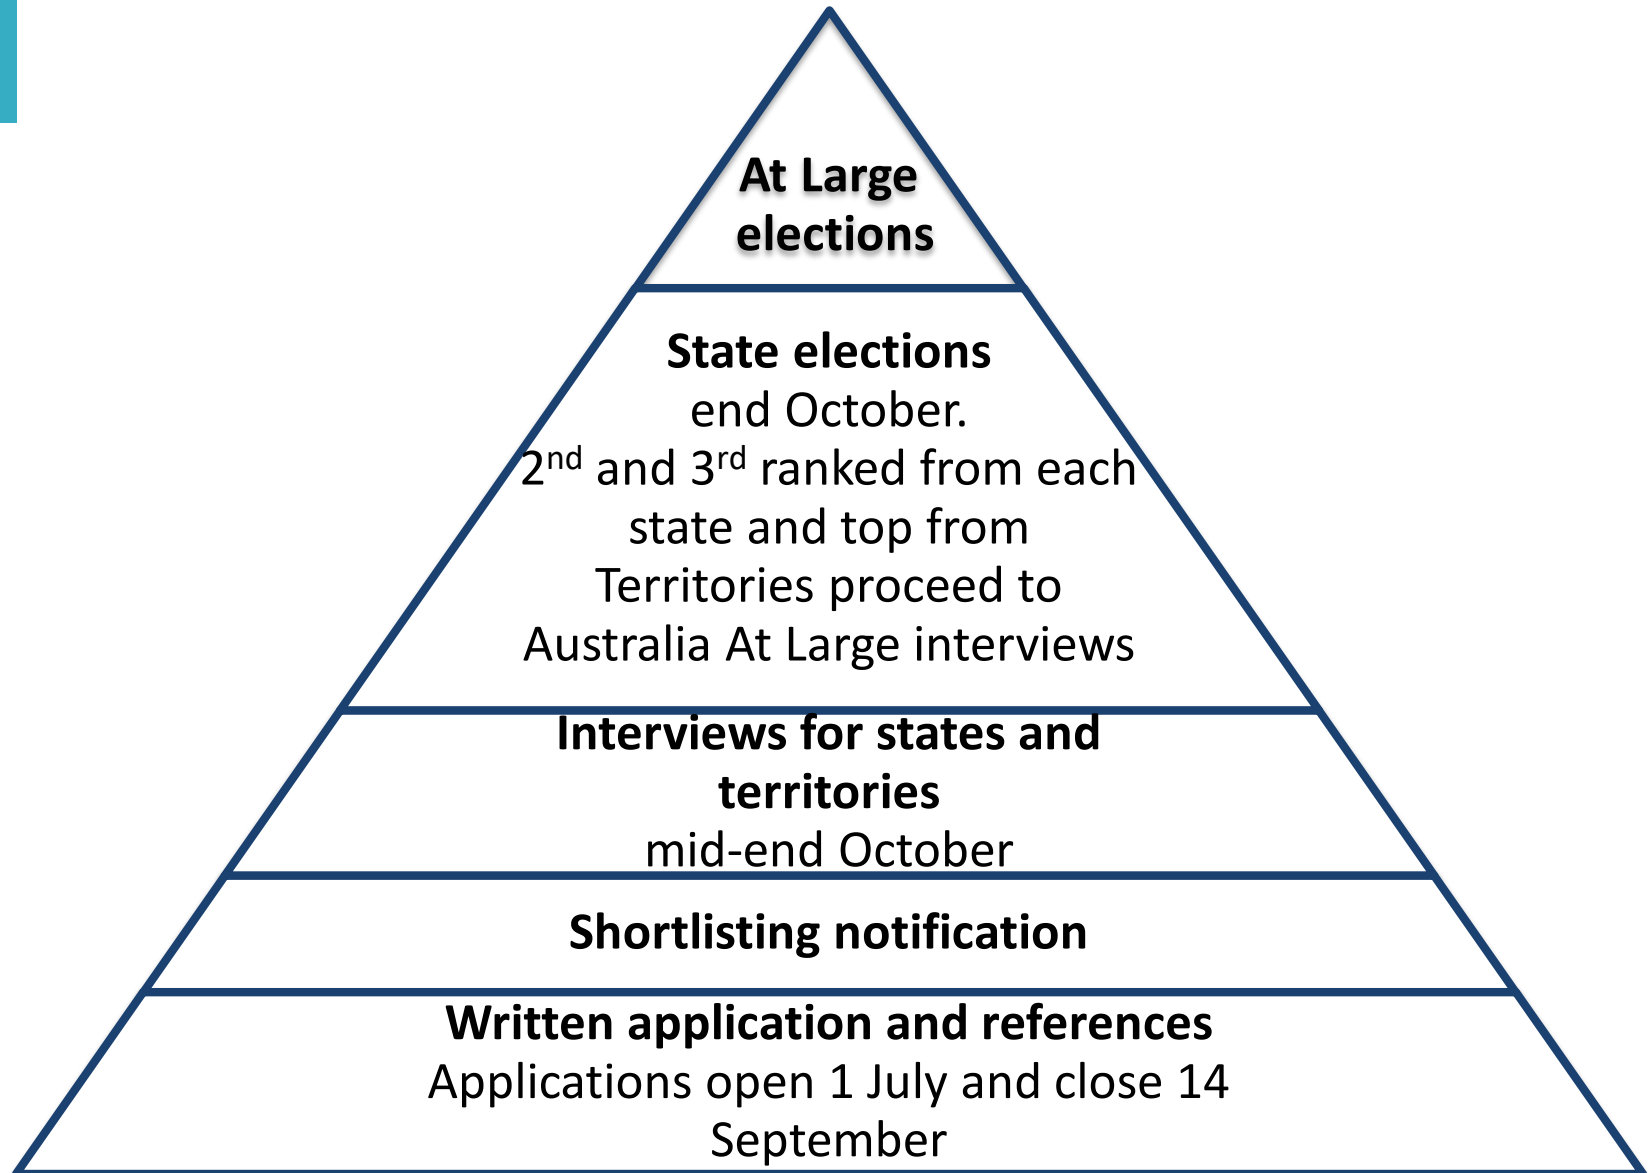

There is no “Rhodes Scholar”, only Rhodes Scholars. Panels don’t have any particular kind of person, degree or list of achievements in mind.

You need to tell the Panel about your leadership journey.

Selection Process: Where do I apply?

- State or territory in which you are completing or have completed your highest degree; or
- State or territory in which you completed at least two years of secondary schooling.

Selection Process

Selection Process: How do I apply?
