

Transformation Masterclass: Transformational Leadership and Workforce Change

Explore new ways of working and supercharge your leadership skills to reduce fatigue and create meaningful change in your organisation.

Transformation can be challenging; from lack of momentum to the competing priorities of everyday business, plus many team members find change difficult and fatigue can set in. Enabling and guiding workforce change is a specialised set of skills. Develop yours by exploring the characteristics of transformational leadership and how to apply them in your organisation. Examining new ways of working and understanding complementary leadership skills, will empower you to facilitate positive, sustainable and effective change in your workplace relationships, culture and dynamics.

Evolve with QUTeX

On course completion, participants will be confident in their knowledge of the cultural and relational impacts of various leadership styles. As well as understand why transformational leadership gets results and complementary leadership skills to take their organisation into the future.

Core concepts

- Build your skills in transformational leadership;
- Explore enabling and facilitative leadership styles to compliment a transformational approach;
- Understand the impacts small differences can make on organisational change and learn how to take a nuanced approach for effective leadership;
- Understand the cultural and workforce implications of different leadership styles; and
- Future-proof your business by determining how to transform your organisation's leadership culture.

Who should participate?

With a focus on people-orientated leadership, this masterclass will future-proof the careers of mid-senior managers and leaders working with learning, development and change management.
