PREFACE

History

The Queensland University of Technology was created in January 1989 by redesignation of the Queensland Institute of Technology. QIT had its origins in the Central Technical College, established in 1914 on what is now the University's Gardens Point campus. On its formation in 1965, QIT absorbed the professional courses offered by the Central Technical College and in its first year enrolled some 2000 part-time students.

In May 1990, QUT amalgamated with the Brisbane College of Advanced Education, a large multi-campus institution specialising in the arts, business, education and the social sciences. BCAE was formed by an amalgamation that took place in January 1982, its precursors being the Kelvin Grove, Mount Gravatt and North Brisbane Colleges of Advanced Education and the Brisbane Kindergarten Teachers' College. These institutions were established, under other designations, in 1914, 1969, 1961 and 1907 respectively. The Mount Gravatt campus of BCAE was transferred to Griffith University in January 1990 prior to BCAE commencing amalgamation negotiations with QUT.

The institution resulting from the amalgamation of BCAE with QUT has retained the title Queensland University of Technology. It is a major university in the Australian context with a broad academic profile and an increasing involvement in research and postgraduate education. QUT has an enrolment approaching 25,000 students and expectations of sustained growth. It has campuses at Carseldine, Kedron Park, Kelvin Grove and Gardens Point, all in metropolitan Brisbane, and is in the process of developing a new campus on the Sunshine Coast, north of Brisbane.

Mission

Within its mission statement QUT has identified three main goals:

- Teaching – to ensure that its graduates acquire knowledge, professional competence, a sense of community responsibility, and a capacity to continue their professional and personal development throughout their lives.
- Research – to advance and apply knowledge germane to the professions and to the communities with which it interacts, and relevant to the enhancement of economic, cultural and social conditions.
- Service – to contribute to the development of Australia's international responsibility and competitiveness; to enhance QUT's relationship with the professions; and to increase community awareness of issues through professional service and social commentary.

Council

The Council is the University's governing body, with responsibility for advertising the University in accordance with the Queensland University of Technology Act, 1988-1990. The Council consists of 22 members, of whom seven are nominees of the Minister for Education, one is a nominee of the Director-General of Education, two are nominees of the Council, two are elected non-academic staff members, three are elected academic staff members, two are elected student members and two are elected Convocation members. The Chancellor and Vice-Chancellor are members ex officio. The Chancellor is Chairperson of the Council and the Registrar is Secretary.

Convocation

Convocation represents the interests of QUT graduates through its representation on Council and its influence on University decision making, particularly in regard to teaching and applied research.

Convocation is chaired by a Warden and is served by a Standing Committee. The full Convocation meets annually and its functions are performed through the year by the Standing Committee.

Information

In addition to the Handbook, the University produces a range of publications to which the public has access. These include the Research and Consultancy Report, the Annual Report and the Admission Procedures booklet. These and other publications or information about the University may be obtained on request from the Registrar. All correspondence should be addressed to:

RESEARCH CENTRES

Australian Key Centre in Land Information Studies

The Australian Key Centre in Land Information Studies (AKCLIS) was established in 1985 and has as its aim:

- ☐ to establish and maintain a world recognised Centre of Excellence dealing with geographic information (in its broadest sense) which is of academic and commercial significance to Australia.

AKCLIS is unique in that its founding members are Queensland University of Technology, the Queensland Government's Department of Lands and the University of Queensland – a model for cooperative research.

AKCLIS has a mission to support and foster research, formal education and training in the land information industry; support industry in developing new markets for Australia and abroad; transfer and diffuse technology throughout the industry; and seek funding for research and training programs.

Research projects selected by AKCLIS for funding in 1991 ranged from a systemic analysis of the capabilities of optical character recognition in an existing land titles system, environmental monitoring using geographical information systems in a mining application, to higher order relationship studies between use of topological data within the state's digital cadastral data base. Several key areas of emergent technology provide a focus of the Centre's research interest:

- ☐ geographic information systems
- ☐ global positioning systems
- ☐ remote sensing.

During the 1990-91 financial year, AKCLIS delivered, participated in, or coordinated training programs totalling more than ten work years for local interstate and international trainees. Well over half of the training conducted by AKCLIS is undertaken for overseas governments or in overseas locations. Extensive consultancies in training have been undertaken in South-east Asia and the South-west Pacific as nations strive to provide opportunities for their future.

In an innovative advance in teaching remote sensing, AKCLIS researchers developed a computer aided learning package for use in senior high schools, undergraduate training in universities and continuing professional education. The program has won recognition and awards from the Australian Institute of Cartographers and the Australian Society for Educational Technology and is being marketed internationally.

AKCLIS also plays a role overseas and was recognised as a Centre of Excellence in Land Information Studies by the prestigious Institute for Land Information based in Washington DC. The Centre provides training for the five-year Natural Resources Management and Development Program in the Philippines which is funded by AIDAB. In addition, training in remote sensing has been conducted in the Pacific and the Centre has a postgraduate exchange program with the University of Wuhan, the leading university for surveying in China.

More than 60 learned papers were presented in 1990 by AKCLIS researchers at conferences, seminars and workshops both in Australia and overseas.

Centre for Biological Population Management

The Centre for Biological Population Management was established to provide a focus for research and education in population management. Initial activity was strongly directed to vertebrate pest management and this area remains the major strength of the Centre, but this focus has been expanded to include aquaculture and plant tissue culture.

The goal of the Centre is to provide practical solutions to problems in population management by:

- ☐ developing cost-effective and environmentally sound management strategies for important species
- ☐ developing new economic resources through the application of biotechnology to bioculture
- ☐ offering international standard training and education in population biology, population management, aquaculture and plant tissue culture.

The academic and research staff of the Centre are drawn from diverse areas of the biological sciences thus ensuring a wide skills base and a multidisciplinary approach to complex research problems.

The Centre has established a significant national research profile in its three general research areas of vertebrate pest management, aquaculture and plant tissue culture. Strong research links with federal and state research authorities and private sector research organisations ensure that the Centre remains at the forefront of national research in these areas.

An international research profile has been developed through collaborative projects with universities in the USA, Mexico, Singapore and Germany and strong links with international research organisations as diverse as the Denver Wildlife Research Centre, South China Institute of Botany, International Rice Research Institute and international agencies such as FAO and USAID. These international links provide opportunities for staff exchange and collaborative research. The Centre is actively involved in research projects in Africa, South America, USA and Europe.

Activities within the Centre include:

Management Strategies Program:

- ☐ integrated pest management strategies
- ☐ conservation management strategies
- ☐ management of captive populations
- ☐ water quality and wastewater management technology.

Biotechnology Application Program:

- ☐ technologies for the production of economically important species and species products
- ☐ use of novel species in aquaculture
- ☐ use of genetic and physiological techniques for improving production in the aquaculture industry
- ☐ new plant varieties of economic importance
- ☐ new plant propagation techniques.

Education and Training Program:

Centre for Eye Research

The Centre for Eye Research was established in the School of Optometry in 1986 to coordinate the wide range of research activities in the visual and ophthalmic sciences. The Centre has a vigorous program of research investigating human vision and how the problems people have with vision may be resolved or alleviated.

In 1988 the Centre was given University Centre status and provided with support funding to pursue its mission of developing the research and postgraduate activities of the School of Optometry. In 1989, the Centre's first PhD students were enrolled.

The research activities of the Centre encompass the clinical, theoretical and applied aspects of the visual sciences. There is an emphasis on the functional and performance aspects of vision of the aged and partially sighted. The Centre also undertakes research for the ophthalmic and pharmaceutical industry towards the development of improved ophthalmic appliances and materials. In addition to investigating the causes of human vision problems, the Centre also undertakes research work for government, industry and business to resolve visual problems in the workplace, in transport and in industry.

The Centre for Eye Research serves as a focus for collaboration with groups internal and external to QUT. This collaboration with industry and with other research units is well established, and the Centre has attracted significant research grants from industry and government funding agencies.

The facilities and resources of the Centre are unique within Queensland and provide a resource for the development of the visual and ophthalmic sciences and industries in the State.

Director (Acting): Associate Professor P.G. Swann BSc(Hons) Aston, MAppSc, FBCO, FAAO

Centre for Medical and Health Physics

The Centre for Medical and Health Physics was established in 1988 to provide a formalised focus and vehicle through which to foster the application of physics and supporting disciplines to clinical and occupational health areas in the community.

The Centre has the following functions:

- ☐ to undertake research and development in existing and anticipated problems relating to diagnosis and treatment of persons in the clinical and occupational areas
- ☐ to conduct programs aimed at educating the health industry in new technologies
- ☐ to disseminate knowledge through postgraduate studies at both master and doctoral levels in areas where the Centre is optimally placed to do so
- ☐ to facilitate the integrated and coordinated transfer of appropriate technology to the countries of South-east Asia and the Pacific Basin by admitting overseas students to postgraduate studies within the Centre; arranging exchange between staff associated with the Centre and overseas scientists; encouraging the secondment of staff associated with the Centre to overseas countries to undertake sponsored applied research and consultancy; and offering specialist courses
- ☐ to develop new products in medical and health-related fields
- ☐ to improve the performance of existing medical instrumentation by participating in quality assurance and instrumentation development projects
- ☐ to encourage the active involvement of its members, industry (in its broadest sense) and the medical profession to achieve the above.

Recent progress has been considerable, particularly considering that nearly all funding for operation has to be generated by members acquiring research grants and consultancies.

A wide range of research and consultancy projects has been undertaken and a number of PhD students have begun their studies.

Members of the Centre have developed strong links with other educational, scientific and professional networks. The Centre supports conference attendance to enhance these links and professional development and visibility.

Key Centre in Strategic Management

The Key Centre in Strategic Management was established by Federal grant in June 1989 with the mission of developing teaching, research and consultancy in the field of management education. The Centre is located within the Faculty of Business and coordinates participation from QUT's faculties of Built Environment and Engineering and Science, and from experts at the University of Newcastle and Bond University. The Centre also has links with the Queensland TAFE sector, with the brief of helping to develop management education at that level, and with the Queensland Quality Centre for its Quality Management focus.

Within the broad field of strategic management particular attention is given to the areas of Quality Management and Human Resource Management and their interface. The Centre's work is led by two Professors. The Chair in Quality Management is the first of its type within Australia and is funded by the Queensland Government.

Key Centre activities include:

Teaching:

- ☐ management certificates in general management; human resource management; financial management; public sector management
- ☐ workshops on the implementation of quality management
- ☐ Women in Management course
- ☐ PhD programs especially in quality management
- ☐ course development for electives and TAFE.

Research:

The Centre disseminates information through a seminar series, through conferences, a working paper series, an edited book series and a business journal, QBIZ.

Director: Professor G. P. Palmer, BSc Birm., MSc Lond., PhD City, UK

Physical Infrastructure Centre

The Physical Infrastructure Centre was established by QUT in 1990 as a national focus for civil engineering research. It aims to become self-funding via consultation, continuing education and research services to industry, government and the University.

Management of the Centre is via a Steering Committee consisting of representatives of the Department of Transport (Queensland Railways and Transport Technology divisions), the Administrative Services Department, School of Civil Engineering staff and private industry.

The Centre works closely with industry and government to identify and carry out key projects which will strengthen, upgrade and refurbish the State's physical infrastructure. By developing improved design, analysis, management, maintenance and rehabilitation techniques, the Physical Infrastructure Centre is enriching some of the State's most valuable assets. These include roads, railways, bridges, water and wastewater treatment plants, urban drainage and solid waste treatment systems, building structures and associated earthworks, pavements and materials.

As society becomes more sophisticated so the stress applied to these systems increases dramatically. The Physical Infrastructure Centre's work is helping to reduce the cost to the community of maintaining these assets and improve the understanding of the interaction of elements within each of the major systems.

Some of the Centre's major projects include:

- ☐ involvement in the rehabilitation of the Story Bridge
- ☐ researching cracked mechanisms and control for low cost roads on expansive soil clays
- ☐ developing individual household package plants for wastewater treatment
- ☐ improving traffic flows by examining the traffic interaction between roundabouts, signalised and unsignalised intersections
- ☐ devising a new portal frame building system using recently developed hollow flange beams sections.

Since 1988, staff involved in the Centre have delivered 12 invited/keynote addresses at international and national conferences, and produced five monographs, 90 refereed journal and conference proceedings and 40 other publications. It has also two commercial computer software programs.

The Centre presently has eight principal researchers, three external associate researchers, 12 internal associate researchers, four PhD students and 15 MEng students and eight MEngSc students.

Terotechnology Centre

Terotechnology is officially defined as 'a combination of management, financial, engineering and other practices applied to physical assets in pursuit of economic life cycle costing'. It is a combination of management and technology and can be applied by both users and manufacturers in industry. It is concerned with the specification and design for reliability and maintainability of plant, machinery and equipment; with their installation, commissioning, maintenance, modification and replacements; and with feedback of information on design, performance and costs.

Terotechnology is therefore multi-disciplinary, requiring no new disciplines, and is essentially a new way of examining and grouping some familiar activities and amalgamating well-tried methods to improve the management of physical assets.

Application of terotechnology brings an awareness that the on-going costs of ownership (such as maintenance) may be higher than the initial capital cost; and the realisation that lower first cost does not necessarily mean lowest whole-life cost.

Adoption of the terotechnology concept has proved to be beneficial in achieving product quality and reliability economically.

The Terotechnology Centre is sponsored by the University and a group of prominent industrial organisations.

Implementation of the concepts of terotechnology requires an excellent communications network. The Terotechnology Centre, working in liaison with industry, provides the link for the dissemination of current technology within industry, whilst also pursuing research into the exploitation of new technology and processes. The benefits to industry are:

- ☐ ready access to the information resource of a major academic cell in Australia working in an area not usually well covered in academia and yet of vital interest to industry
- ☐ availability of a steady stream of graduates with a prime interest in, and respect for, modern methods of plant maintenance and operation
- ☐ ready access to results from a significant number of relevant student undergraduate investigations. (Each project represents between 90 and 180 hours work)
- ☐ an enlarged program of continuing education in this field
- ☐ ready access to more test equipment and expertise for reference, testing and consultation
- ☐ enhanced prospect of major government subsidised research and development investigations in joint QUT-industry projects
- ☐ reports on conferences, seminars, professional experience programs in which staff have participated both nationally and internationally
- ☐ Implementation of project work at QUT as suggested by the industrial partner.

ACADEMIC AND STUDENT SERVICES

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Unit

The Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Education Program was established in 1984 to meet the needs of students, and to respond to a growing demand by both staff and students for the provision of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander perspectives across all courses. At the beginning of 1991 the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Unit (ATSIU) was formed. A major aim of the Unit is to develop and improve the participation and successful outcomes for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students.

The Unit's central office is on the Kelvin Grove campus with offices on the Gardens Point and Carseldine campuses. In addition to teaching and research services the Unit provides academic and welfare support to all Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students at QUT.

In 1991 the Unit responded to increased demand for entrance to a diversity of courses across the faculties and campuses; and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students gained entry into a wide range of courses including the Bachelor of Social Science, Bachelor of Business, Bachelor of Education, Bachelor of Arts, (Drama, Music and Visual Arts), Bachelor of Laws, Bachelor of Nursing, Bachelor of Teaching, and Bachelor of Applied Science.

The Unit also fulfils a research, advisory and consultancy function for tertiary researchers, government departments, and community and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander organisations in order to promote Aboriginal Studies and Torres Strait Islander Studies as academic disciplines.

The Unit provides staff development opportunities in the field of cross-cultural communication and conducts courses, conferences and seminars relevant to the development of Aboriginal Studies and Torres Strait Islander Studies.

Staff in the Unit assist in teaching mainstream courses throughout the University.

Coordinator: W.E. Brady, BA (Hons) Syd.

Chaplaincy Services

The University caters for the emotional and spiritual needs of students and staff through the provision of Chaplaincy Services. The Ecumenical Chaplaincy is a joint venture of the University and the major Christian denominations. There are presently two full-time chaplains and one part-time chaplain working across the campuses of QUT, operating on a schedule of weekly visits to each campus.

Chaplaincy Centres and Chapel

The Chaplaincy Centres are ecumenical, and although the chaplains represent the major Christian denominations, they are available to people of other religions as well. If necessary, they are able to put people in touch with appropriate contacts from different denominations or religions.

The Chaplaincy Centres are a focus for Christians from a diversity of traditions and theological emphases. The purpose is to encourage community spirit and to be a lively influence within each campus. The chaplains aim to relate Christian faith to both personal commitment and to the corporate structures of church and society. Activities include counselling, social gatherings, discussion groups, eucharist, prayer and meditation groups. Chaplaincy can also serve as a bridge across the divisions that may surface in any human institution.

At the Gardens Point campus there is a Muslim mosque, in a room adjacent to the main chaplaincy rooms.

A chaplain is available at the Chaplaincy Centres on the following days:

GARDENS POINT, Old Government House near the entrance to the Library, Monday to Friday. Telephone (07) 864 2700 or (07) 864 2086.

KELVIN GROVE, room C420, Community Building, Monday, Tuesday, Thursday. Telephone (07) 864 3135.

KEDRON PARK Friday. Telephone (07) 864 4290.

CARSELDINE, level 4 of the Community Building on Wednesday and Friday. Telephone (07) 864 4529.

AFTER HOURS: John Woodley. Telephone (074) 98 8670.

Computing Services

Computing Services exists to provide high quality information technology services to the University community. It is a department within the Division of Information Services.

Services offered by Computing Services include:

- ☐ the provision and maintenance of a wide range of computing facilities
- ☐ the provision and maintenance of the University-wide data communications network with links to world-wide data networks
- ☐ the maintenance and support of computing software

Major Computer Systems

The major computers in the University network are:

- ☐ A Digital Vax cluster which is used for teaching, research, and administration. The processors are a Vax 6430 with 128 megabytes of memory and a Vax 8550 with 96 megabytes of memory. The cluster has a total of 14.7 gigabytes of disk storage, four high density cartridge drives, two tape drives, two line printers, a high capacity laser printer, an optical mark reader, and a diverse range of graphics equipment. The operating system is VMS Version 5.

- A Hewlett-Packard HP 3000 which is primarily for administration. It has 96 megabytes of memory, 5.6 gigabytes of disk space, and one tape drive. The operating system is MPE/XL.
- A Convex C 210 mini-supercomputer providing superior research computing facilities. It has an integrated vector processor, 128 megabytes of memory, 4 gigabytes of disk storage, and a tape drive. The operating system is Unix.
- A Hewlett-Packard HP 9000 which is used for teaching and research. It has 16 megabytes of memory, 1.2 gigabytes of disk space, and a tape drive. The operating system is Unix.
- A Data General MV 15000 and an AWA Sequel which provide library automation including on-line public access catalogues. These will shortly be replaced with a new library system.

The Communication Network

The computing facilities of the University are connected by a data communications network, which links buildings and campuses. The inter-campus links are used for both data and voice traffic. More than 2000 workstations and terminals are located on the four Brisbane campuses and the Sunshine Coast facility at Nambour.

Devices in a growing number of areas are connected to the Ethernet network, either directly or via terminal servers. Others are connected via an MDX or Micom port selector. These communication systems are linked so that any device may be connected to any of the systems on the network. The network may also be accessed via a significant number of dial-up lines. A number of local area networks are in the process of being integrated into the University network.

Computing Services supports all services available through the Australian Academic and Research Network (AARNet), which is connected to major networks throughout the world. Services include national and international e-mail, network news, connection to remote host computers, and file transfer.

Software

An extremely wide range of software is available for research, teaching, office automation, and personal productivity purposes. This includes languages, editors and other utilities, software development platforms, electronic mail, word processing, text processing and other office automation systems, and a broad range of teaching and research application packages.

Common languages include Ada, Basic, C, Cobol-74, Fortran, Lisp, Macro-32, Modula II, Occam, OPS-5, Pascal, Prolog, RPG, and Simula. Software development platforms include Oracle, Powerhouse, and Rdb.

The mail systems are integrated, but users have a choice of mail interface, including PC Mail, Vax Mail, and HP Desk.

Important application packages include SPSS-X, SAS, Genstat, Nastran, GDS, GKS, Lindo, GNC, Tex, Latex, Aspen, Spice, Camel, and Sig.

Campus Computer Centres and Laboratories

The major systems are housed in machine rooms associated with campus computer centres at Gardens Point and at Kedron Park. Other campuses also have Computer Centres which act as a focus for computing activities there.

Computing Services also manages approximately 21 computer laboratories located on the various campuses. The laboratories are equipped with microcomputers, specialised workstations, graphical display terminals, and VDUs. Most of these are connected to the University network or a local area network. Much common microcomputer software is available on these systems, including WordPerfect, MS-windows, Lotus 123, dBase IV, and DrawPerfect.

Hours

Mainframe computers are available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, except for times needed for stand-alone file backup and preventive maintenance. These times are chosen to cause minimum disruption to normal use, and vary from system to system. If any system is scheduled to be unavailable, information will be posted in on-line news and log-on messages on that system.

Operator coverage is provided at Kedron Park from 8:15 am to 4:30 pm Monday to Saturday, and at Gardens Point from 8:00 am to 11:30 pm Monday to Friday and 8:30 am to 5:00 pm Saturday and Sunday during semesters and many weekends between semesters.

Most computing laboratories are open 24 hours a day, seven days a week. They either allow open access or access via a lock whose combination is issued to authorised students.

Full information on system scheduling, backup times, opening hours, and operator coverage is provided by the Computing Services Help Desk on 864 4275.

Management Information Systems

QUT is a large modern organisation which makes extensive use of automated information systems in its management. The Management Information Systems section is responsible for the planning, analysis, design, development, coordination, and support of these systems. Important systems include the personnel/payroll system, the student information system, the finance system, and the equipment system. Management Information Systems also undertakes the production of specific information systems for schools and departments on a contract basis.

User Assistance

The department provides a broad range of services to assist users in making the most of computing facilities. These include:

- ☐ A help desk giving direct assistance to University staff on all aspects of computer use. You may seek help by personal visit to the Help Desks at Gardens Point or Kedron Park, or via the Help Desk telephone lines on extension 4275.
- ☐ Training courses provided to staff and postgraduate students in the use of facilities, operating systems and important application programs.
- ☐ A wide range of documents which assist users in various aspects of computer use, including how to get started in using various computer systems, introductions to operating system commands, system utility programs, languages, and important application programs.

- ❑ A consultancy service to staff on a broad range of information technology issues. Specialist advice is available in areas including supercomputing, use of Computer Aided Design/Computer Aided Manufacture, statistical analysis, and typesetting.
- ❑ A data conversion service, converting files between various formats and media.
- ❑ A data entry service, particularly appropriate for users with large quantities of data (such as survey data for statistical analysis).
- ❑ A contract programming service specialising in services such as technical programming, data analysis, and the development of departmental information systems.
- ❑ Services providing the evaluation, purchase and installation of hardware, software and consumable items.

Field Service and Repair

Computing Services undertakes to maintain and repair items from a list of recommended computing equipment. This list of recommended equipment is available from Computing Services to aid sections of the University in making their purchases, and covers a wide range of items.

Charging

Unless explicitly stated, no actual transfer of funds occurs when Computing Services undertakes computer processing work solely for the education of QUT staff or students or for QUT administration. Accounts are generated, however, for record and control. Facilities are sometimes made available for external use for specifically agreed projects and at commercial rates listed in the schedule of charges.

Rules

Rules have been designed to encourage the best use of the University's computing resources by all authorised users. Summaries of the rules are posted in laboratories and a full list is available from the department. All users are expected to respect these rules.

Counselling and Health Services

The Department of Counselling and Health is an autonomous professional department of the University, which takes an active role in promoting the personal, career and educational development of students and staff and providing for their health and well-being.

Counselling and Careers Services

The Counselling Section assists with normal development needs. Personal and social matters, educational difficulties, welfare and financial issues, and decision making on future career and personal planning are some of the areas handled by counsellors.

The Careers Section organises the Campus Interview Program for final year students, and helps students prepare for these interviews. It also conducts a survey of graduate destinations in the year following graduation.

The Counselling and Careers Service offers programs designed to aid the development of personal maturity and effective patterns of living, studying and working. These include workshops on interpersonal communication, assertiveness, job-hunting skills and career planning; stress management groups; and reading efficiency and tertiary learning skills programs.

Complementing these is a range of general welfare and guidance services, including financial aid, course and career information, and an accommodation self-help service. Contact with many other agencies in the community offering services to students is also provided.

Services are provided by professionally qualified staff. Facilities vary across campuses but generally include consultation rooms, and a library of course and welfare information. Services are free of charge and available to students (both full and part-time) and staff at all campuses, as well as to others intending to enrol at QUT in the future. All consultations are strictly confidential. Counsellors are available during normal University hours; however, out-of-hours appointments can be arranged.

Students with Disabilities/Health Problems

Students with disabilities or health problems who may require special assistance or support during their studies are encouraged to make early contact with the Department of Counselling and Health (telephone (07) 864 2383) or the relevant course coordinator. They are also requested to indicate such special needs at enrolment. Those with temporary disabilities arising from accidents and illness that may occur during the year should also make known their needs if special support services are required.

The University seeks to provide appropriate support services for students with disabilities. These may include:

- ☐ accessible parking for those with mobility problems
- ☐ effective learning/study skills workshops
- ☐ scheduling classes in accessible rooms
- ☐ lending special audiovisual equipment
- ☐ assistance to access library resources
- ☐ lecture material in different formats such as tapes, braille, large print, computer disks
- ☐ a note-taker to assist in lectures
- ☐ an interpreter for deaf students
- ☐ alternative academic assessment procedures.

Early contact should be made with a counsellor or the course coordinator to discuss special needs. Assistance with physical and study facilities and informing appropriate staff of special needs can be expedited with early notice. An information booklet – A Guide to Students with Disabilities – is available on request from the counsellor.

Institute of Applied Linguistics

The Institute of Applied Linguistics was established in 1987. Its major functions are:

- ☐ to develop non-award English language courses
- ☐ to undertake consultancies and research in applied linguistics and TESOL
- ☐ to conduct non-award courses in the field of applied linguistics and TESOL
- ☐ to offer award programs in applied linguistics and TESOL
- ☐ to meet the English language needs of overseas trained professionals through ESL, ESP (English for Specific Purposes) and EAP (English for Academic Purposes) programs.

The Institute is primarily a conduit for overseas students to the University's undergraduate and graduate programs. Many students who complete the ELICOS (English Language Intensive Courses for Overseas Students) programs pursue formal award courses offered by the University; some go to other tertiary institutions in Australia. The University provides on-going English language support to overseas students who need assistance.

In addition to ELICOS, the Institute conducts English language programs for overseas-trained migrants who wish to update their skills or who wish to enter their professions in Australia. The Department of Immigration, Local Government and Ethnic Affairs (DILGEA) sponsors the Migrant Professional Program.

Staff at the Institute have particular expertise in the area of language proficiency testing. One member of staff has an international reputation in language testing, having worked on the development of the Australian Second Language Proficiency Ratings (ASLPR) and the International English Language Testing Service (IELTS). IAL staff have been involved in language education programs in Afghanistan, Austria, China, Ethiopia, Papua New Guinea, South-east Asia, the Middle East and several other countries.

Staff at the Institute have been successful in securing international consultancies in applied linguistics and TESOL. The Director has designed and developed UNESCO projects in Afghanistan, Mongolia and China. The project in China will greatly influence the training of ESL teachers in four provinces of remote South-west China and more importantly, the project may eventually affect the teaching of English to as many as seven million secondary school students. IAL staff have also had consultancies in Australia, Britain, Indonesia, the Maldives, Thailand and the United States of America.

Research interests within the Institute include:

- ☐ language testing
- ☐ language learning styles
- ☐ language teaching methodology and materials
- ☐ syllabus design and evaluation
- ☐ English for Specific Purposes.

International Students

An international student is any student who is not a citizen or permanent resident of Australia or New Zealand.

Attendance

To meet student visa requirements, a student must be enrolled full-time, i.e. 75% or more of a full-time credit load. Special approval must be obtained through the Office of International Students for a student to study on a part-time basis.

Application and Enrolment

All international students, except those studying Year 12 in Australia, should apply on an 'F' form. Year 12 students should apply through QTAC.

Following acceptance of an offer and payment of one semester's fees and health cover charges, a student will be issued with an Acceptance Advice form to apply for a visa to travel to Australia. Enrolment will be completed during Orientation.

Requests for change of course and other variations to enrolment should be directed initially to the Office of International Students on the appropriate forms.

Fees

Information on international student tuition fees is available from the Office of International Students. Tuition fees include student guild payments, all international student support services including airport greeting, accommodation advice and English language support. International students are exempt from HECS.

Tuition fees must be paid by the due date in order for re-enrolment to be confirmed for the following semester. Failure to re-enrol will result in the cancellation of the student's visa. The Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC) charge must be paid every 12 months before re-enrolment can be confirmed.

Students returning to full-time study after a period of absence are required to pay the tuition fees appropriate at the time of return.

Tuition fees are partially refunded for withdrawal from the course up to the end of Week 6 of the semester. After that time, no refund is available.

Fees for students on approved part-time study are levied pro rata, according to the proportion of full-time credit points being studied.

In some limited cases, applicants on temporary resident visas may be allowed to enrol part-time as visiting students. Fees are levied on a pro rata basis as for other part-time international students.

International Student Services

International Student Services provides special assistance to overseas and migrant students. Reception, orientation, accommodation and ESL training are some of the services provided. International Student Services also provides information and advice to the spouses and families of international students and to staff members.

These services are available on each campus at the International Student Services office or through Counselling Services.

Hours differ from campus to campus and sometimes from different service points within locations. Full opening hours details are advertised at each location and through a variety of publications.

Membership

All staff, full-time and part-time students are automatically members of the Library and may borrow materials on any campus. Identification card(s) are required whenever and wherever a user borrows.

The QUT Library has extensive reciprocal borrowing arrangements with Griffith University. As well, staff and students may also be eligible to register for reciprocal privileges from a number of other tertiary institutions.

Services

A variety of services is available on most of the campuses.

Information Services: Staff are on duty at the Information Desks to answer queries and assist users in finding and using collections and resources. If the materials required by users are not held on their home campus, they may request an intercampus loan. Similarly, users with special research needs may be eligible for an interlibrary loan if the items are not held anywhere within the QUT. Special reciprocal loans may be requested if the items are held by Griffith University. Online searches of a large number of databases are also available.

Academic Liaison: Consultation with academic staff on the development of resources and services is promoted through a liaison service. A reference librarian works closely with each School in order to ensure that collections and programs will reflect their priorities.

User Education: Professional staff teach students efficient information-seeking skills through a variety of formal and informal programs. Teaching staff interested in these programs should contact their reference librarian and students should enquire at the Information Desk or ask their lecturers.

Other facilities: Facilities for study include study carrels, seminar rooms, lecture theatres and supporting audiovisual and computing and photocopying facilities. Translation services, displays and appropriate consultancy are also available. Guides to collections and services may be found on all campuses near the main entrance.
