OVERVIEW

The Humanities Program at Carseldine campus is responsible for the administration of the Bachelor of Arts program in a number of double degrees. The Arts component of these double degrees offers students the opportunity to complete a multidisciplinary major in one of the following: International and Global Studies; Ethics and Human Rights; Society and Change; Community Studies and Australian Studies. Discipline majors in History, Geography, Languages, Sociology and Political Studies are also available. The Arts component of the Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Education (Secondary) double degree is different in structure to the Arts program in all the other double degrees in that students choose two teaching areas from: English; History; Geography; LOTE; Social Science; General Science; and Film and Media Studies.

The Humanities Program will also administer the single Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Social Science degrees for continuing students in 2008.

Associated postgraduate research and coursework programs and honours programs are also available.

Research activities through the Humanities Research Program are regarded as key strategies for ensuring ongoing relevance of the academic programs and for maintaining the strong success record of graduates.

RESEARCH

Humanities Research Program

The Humanities Research Program facilitates research with a strong social research orientation which allows the human, ethical and societal dimensions of technological, environmental, economic and political change to be assessed and responses to these changes to be identified. This is achieved through careful, critical, independent and ethical research, which contributes to better outcomes for individuals and communities and addresses issues of national and global significance.

Staff and students are offered:

- a distinctive, applied research culture, underpinned by a solid research base
- a focus on international and local issues related to the humanities and social sciences
- an ethical engagement with a wide range of public policy and practices related to government, business and the community
- strong collaborative partnerships with community, government, academic and private organizations
- cutting edge critical public debate
- an open, people-centred and change-oriented approach
- a nurturing environment for the development of excellence in the next generation of researchers through expert mentoring and guidance by experienced researchers.

Strengths of the Humanities Research Program include:

- Expertise in topical and important areas within the social research arena including:
 - Applied Ethics
 - Asia-Pacific Studies
 - Community Studies
 - European Studies
 - History
 - Gender Studies
 - Geography and Environmental Studies
 - Human Rights
 - Politics
 - Sociology
 - Social Capital
- Experience in the use of diverse research approaches, including political, sociological, applied ethics, historical and social science research approaches
- Solid links with the community, industry, business and government organizations that enable the development of collaborative research alliances
- Cross-disciplinary linkages at the local, national and international level
- A strong publication rate.

Course Outline

The Bachelor of Arts allows you to design your degree to suit your own interests and career aspirations. You will complete 24 units of study.

* You are REQUIRED to complete:

- One multidisciplinary major (7 units) from
 - International and Global Studies
 - Society and Change
 - Ethics and Human Rights
 - Community Studies
 - Australian Studies

* The remaining 17 units of study will consist of your choice from the following options:

- An additional multidisciplinary major (7 units)
- An Arts discipline major (6 units) from
 - Geography
 - History
 - Sociology
 - Political Studies
 - French
 - German
 - Indonesian
 - Japanese
 - Mandarin
- An Arts minor/s in any of the multidisciplinary or discipline majors (4 units)
- A co-major, an approved university minor, or individual electives in another QUT course (up to 8 units)

- A work-based Internship (2 units)

International and Global Studies Multidisciplinary Major

The International and Global Studies multidisciplinary major is an ideal choice if you wish to work in areas that demand and value knowledge of trends and outcomes in internationalisation, understanding of cultural diversity, knowledge of world regions, cultures and societies, and skills associated with global literacy. You may choose to concentrate on 'global perspectives' or 'international studies' (Asian studies, European studies or Pacific studies). You may combine this major with language study in Indonesian, French, Japanese, German or Mandarin.

Society and Change Multidisciplinary Major

The Society and Change major provides a multidisciplinary approach to understanding the dynamics of social change with particular emphasis on the environment, change and society, societies in transition, and the individual and society. You will acquire substantive knowledge on social and cultural aspects of change, and will be challenged to take a critical and analytical approach to your study. Many of the units provide case studies of social change, and as a graduate of this major you will be equipped with transferable analytical, research and interpersonal skills that are in demand in policy, research and community work.

Ethics and Human Rights Multidisciplinary Major

The Ethics and Human Rights multidisciplinary major provides you with the opportunity to develop as a socially responsible and responsive practitioner. Dramatic changes in the human condition, such as those already emerging from globalisation and biotechnology, will be a significant feature of life in the twenty-first century. This major will equip you with understandings, skills and strategies that will enable you to address change in ways that promote the well-being of individuals and communities. The major is organised around five themes: ethical understandings and theory, human rights, identity studies, ethics and technology and ethical practice.

Australian Studies Multidisciplinary Major

The Australian Studies multidisciplinary major examines past, present and future Australia from a variety of discipline and interdisciplinary approaches. Australian studies is a contested, endless conversation and the units reflect the many perspectives which researchers now adopt in trying to understand what 'Australia' is like as a society, a nation, a place and a home to indigenous and non-indigenous citizens. The major will equip you with knowledge about Australians and Australia and its role in the world. In addition, as a graduate you will have the confidence to engage in empirical and theoretical debates about what has happened, and should happen in Australia.

Community Studies Multidisciplinary Major

In the Community Studies multidisciplinary major the 'knowledge explosion' is addressed by an open-ended teaching and learning approach to equip you to better understand the communities to which you belong from past, present and future perspectives. As you get to know how communities are structured, you will consider what holds communities together and what undermines them, and consider how communities can be enhanced. The major encompasses the concept of community and a detailed investigation of community processes.

HUMANITIES PROGRAM

Minors

All of the multidisciplinary and discipline majors in the Bachelor of Arts can also be taken as four-unit minors. Note also that all QUT faculties offer agreed sets of units as 'university minors'.

Course Outline

The Bachelor of Social Science allows you to develop a range of social science skills which will equip you to address social issues and problems.

You will complete 24 units of study in this course.

* You are REQUIRED to complete:

- One social science major (7 units) from
Sociology
Politics and History
Geography and Environment
Indigenous Perspectives and Issues
Human Services and Social Policy and

- Social science skills units (6 units). The choice includes interpersonal communication social research conflict resolution
team practice survey methods
social policy processes intervention methods

* The remaining 11 units of study will consist of your choices from the following options:

- An additional social science major (7 units)

- A social science minor (4 units) from
Gender and Sexuality
Peace and Conflict Resolution

- A foreign language (4-6 units) from French, German, Indonesian, Japanese, Mandarin

- A co-major, an approved university minor, or individual electives in another QUT course (up to 8 units)

- A work-based internship (2 units)

- An independent social science project (2 units)

Sociology Major

Sociology is an attempt to grapple with the issues and problems of a world experiencing change. You will study what makes us social beings and why both cooperation and conflict are recurring features of our social relationships. You will gain an understanding of the fundamental institutions of family, school, work and culture, and will be equipped to think intelligently and critically about them. You will acquire the skills of social analysis and policy development which are essential for a wide variety of professional employment.

Geography and Environment Major

Geography explains how and why natural environments, land use, settlement, economic activity, population and cultures vary from place to place, and how these elements interact to create distinctive and dynamic regional landscapes. The practical approach provides you with a sound basis, as a professional, for analysing human-environment linkages; population, social and cultural change; land use; settlement; and sustainable development.

Politics and History Major

The combination of politics and history provides a focus on the application of power in the contemporary world and also an understanding of how and why we have arrived at the social and political structures and processes that exist today. As a graduate with a politics and history background you will be equipped to enter occupations that require development and analysis of policy and administrative programs in both the public and private sectors.

Indigenous Perspectives and Issues Major

Indigenous perspectives and issues are central to the contemporary social sciences and to the creation of graduates who are skilled in the complexities of cross-cultural understanding and the acquisition of cross-cultural sensitivity. You will gain insights into Australian Indigenous perspectives and issues from the disciplines of humanities and human services, creative industries, education and justice studies. You will also develop skills associated with research ethics and protocols as they relate to Indigenous cultures and communities.

Human Services and Social Policy Major

Understanding our complex society and identifying emerging social issues and trends are key roles for human service and social policy practitioners. Community service agencies and for-profit industries seek out graduates with vocational skills that enable them to stay abreast of rapid social change and emerging trends. As a social science graduate you will be equipped to review, develop and administer social programs.

Gender and Sexuality Minor

Issues of difference and identity as they relate to the constitution of gender and sexuality are significant elements within social science investigations. This minor draws on relevant units from discipline areas such as humanities and human services, psychology, public health, justice studies and creative industries to enable you to analyse and challenge inherent presumptions about gendered/sexed bodies, as well as address the possibilities for alternative identity politics.

Peace and Conflict Resolution Minor

You will engage with important issues of contemporary global change and the way these may impact on diverse communities and individuals, conflicts that arise out of these situations, and approaches to resolving such conflicts. The units provide you with opportunities to pursue in-depth studies of human rights issues, identity issues and conflicts, and crisis intervention and resolution.

Minors

All the social science majors can also be taken as four-unit minors.
Note also that all QUT faculties offer agreed sets of units as 'university minors'.

Course Structure

This course consists of 16 units each from the Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Human Services. The arts course structure allows you maximum flexibility to mix and match study units in a diverse range of themes including international, Australian, contemporary, historical, environmental, ethics, social change and language studies. In human services, you will acquire a range of professional skills and will specialise in a practice field from child and family services, aged services, corrective services, disability services, or services to young people.

Refer to the Bachelor of Arts (HH01) and Bachelor of Human Services (HH02) entries for further details.

Professional Practice Placements

As part of the Human Services component, you will have the opportunity to apply knowledge and skills through two supervised, professional practice placements in human service organisations.

You will first explore the diversity of practice methods through the Introduction to Practice. You will undertake a total of 140 hours of volunteer placement/s in a human service agency.

Your theoretical and practical studies will culminate in a 36 credit point Advanced Professional Practice placement in your final year. This placement will generally reflect your specialised service context area. You will develop a learning plan in consultation with your agency supervisor and a university staff member. During this 400-hour supervised placement in a human services agency, you will further develop your assessment and intervention skills and your own practice framework. It may be possible to undertake this 12 week placement with an overseas agency.

These professional practice placements provide many valuable opportunities for networking within the human services industry.

Deferment

QUT allows current Year 12 school leavers to defer their undergraduate admission offer for one year, or for six months if offered mid-year admission, except in courses using specific admission requirements such as questionnaires, folios, auditions, prior study or work experience.

Non-year 12 students may also request to defer their QTAC offer on the basis of demonstrated special circumstances.

Find out more on deferment.

Working with Children Check

As required by the Commission for Children and Young People and Child Guardian Act (2000), students must undergo a criminal history check and be issued with a Suitability Card (Blue Card) by the Commission.

As soon as you enter your enrolment program for the course, you must submit your Blue Card application to the QUT Student Centre immediately. You must hold a Blue Card to undertake activities in any unit which involves contact with children, including the required field studies blocks.

If you do not apply for a Blue Card immediately upon enrolment in the course and allow sufficient time for the police check and issuing of the Card, you will be unable to participate in the required activities and may need to be withdrawn from the unit(s) and incur both financial and academic penalty. It may take up to 8 weeks for the Commission to issue the Card. The application form is available at bluecard.qut.com.

Professional Membership (Bachelor of Human Services)

Graduates are entitled to apply for membership of the Australian Welfare and community Workers. (Accreditation application is currently in process).

Course is under review

QUT is currently reviewing the Arts and Social Science programs to ensure they continue to meet the needs of students and employers. As a result these programs may change in 2008 or may not be offered. You can register for updates on the status of these courses by visiting the Humanities and Human Services website.

Overview

An Honours course provides you with not just specialisation-specific knowledge and skills, but also generic capacities that are highly valued in the labour market. An Honours year may also lead to enrolment in a higher research degree and students who do well are encouraged to apply for scholarships to undertake further study. As an Honours student you will undertake a program of focused study supervised by a member of academic staff.

Entry Requirements

Normally students will apply at the end of the final year of their pass degree. Except where otherwise specified, applicants MUST have:

* completed a bachelor degree in the relevant discipline area from QUT, or a similar degree from QUT or another university; and

* achieved a level of attainment considered by the Faculty Academic Board to be acceptable for the purposes of proceeding to an Honours degree (normally a course grade point average of 5 on a seven-point scale).

Alternatively, candidates may be accepted for admission by the Faculty Academic Board after advice from the course coordinator regarding evidence of other relevant qualifications and/or experience.

It is preferred that you contact a member of academic staff or the course coordinator to discuss supervision prior to submitting your application.

Course Structure

The course consists of three coursework units and the equivalent of five units of supervised independent study, resulting in a 15 000-18 000 word thesis. The requirements for graduating are satisfactory (or better) performance in all units. The final mark for the course is determined on the basis of marks assigned in the coursework units The Logic of Social Inquiry, Literature Review, and the advanced elective, plus the mark awarded to the thesis, with weighting being given according to the proportion of credit points within the total. The Honours thesis will be marked by two assessors, one of whom will normally be external to QUT.

Part-time Course Structure

Part-time students, and students wishing to enrol mid-year, should contact the course coordinator for advice on alternative sequences of study.

Language Students

Language students will, where appropriate, do extensive work in the Literature Review and Honours Thesis units in the target language. Where feasible the Honours thesis will be written in the target language.

Course is under review

QUT is currently reviewing the Arts and Social Science programs to ensure they continue to meet the needs of students and employers. As a result these programs may change in 2008 or may not be offered. You can register for updates on the status of these courses by visiting the Humanities and Human Services website.

Overview

An Honours course provides you with not just specialisation-specific knowledge and skills, but also generic capacities that are highly valued in the labour market. An Honours year may also lead to enrolment in a higher research degree and students who do well are encouraged to apply for scholarships to undertake further study. The Honours course contains a mix of advanced theory, research training and a research project leading to a thesis. The thesis will be completed under the guidance of an individual supervisor.

Entry Requirements

Minimum requirement for entry:

- a grade point average of 5 over all undergraduate units. Normally students will have a QUT Social Science degree with a majority of units at second- and third-year level.

Alternatively, candidates may be accepted for admission by the Faculty Academic Board, after advice from the course coordinator regarding evidence of other relevant qualifications and/or experience.

It is preferred that you contact a member of academic staff or the course coordinator to discuss supervision prior to submitting your application.

Course Structure

Coursework provides for both disciplinary specialisation, and an interdisciplinary elective option selected in consultation with your supervisor and the course coordinator. The course consists of three coursework units and the equivalent of five units of supervised independent study, resulting in a 15 000-18 000 word thesis. The requirements for graduating are satisfactory (or better) performance in all units. The final mark for the course is determined on the basis of marks assigned in the coursework units The Logic of Social Inquiry, Literature Review, and the advanced elective, plus the mark awarded to the thesis, with weighting being given according to the

Overview

The Master of Arts by Research is offered through the Centre for Social Change Research. Research topics are drawn from the various disciplines represented in the School of Humanities and Human Services. Study areas available include:

- * Aged Services
- * Applied Ethics
- * Asia-Pacific Studies
- * Child and Family Services
- * Disability Services
- * European Studies
- * Geography and Environmental Studies
- * History
- * Human Services
- * International and Global Studies
- * Languages (French, German, Indonesian, Japanese, Mandarin)
- * Political Studies
- * Services to Young People
- * Sociology.

Entry requirements

Applicants must have a three-year bachelor degree or equivalent to enter the coursework plus research program.

To enter the research only program, applicants must have completed a three-year bachelor degree plus honours. Candidates with other four-year qualifications such as a three-year bachelor degree plus graduate diploma or a four-year double degree may also, after consultation with their supervisor and the course coordinator, enter the 96 credit point course. Such applicants whose previous study has included limited relevant research experience may be advised to enrol in a research methods unit as part of their course. They may also elect to take the 144 credit point program.

Course Structure

For those with a three-year degree, the Master of Arts (Research) normally comprises 48 credit points of coursework and a 96 credit point research project. For those with a four-year degree it normally comprises a 96 credit point research project. However, with the approval of the postgraduate studies coordinator it is possible to enrol in a 12 credit point coursework plus 84 credit point research project; or a 24 credit point coursework plus 72 credit point research project.

Research Component

The research component is usually presented as a thesis (30 000-50 000 words).

Overview

The Doctor of Social Science will play a vital role in ensuring that humanities, social science and human service professionals will be able to continue their professional and personal development. The objective of the programme is advanced, critical and systematic reflection at doctoral level on professional practice in any or across a number of the humanities, social science and human service disciplines

Entry Requirements

- . a four year degree or its equivalent with First Class Honours or Honours IIA; or
- . a masters degree in a field relevant to the professional doctorate; AND
- . two years of practice at an advanced level in a position of responsibility in a relevant professional setting.

Entry with Advanced Standing: Candidates with a masters degree will be eligible for credit of up to 96 credit points. Other previous study or uncredentialed learning may also gain credit.

Course Structure

The course is divided into coursework and three theses. All three theses have conference presentation/communication of research finding units attached to them. Students will first complete their coursework and their first project, as well as HHR510 before they will be permitted to work on their second project. Similarly students must complete the second project as well as HHR520 before they are permitted to begin work on their third project. The course therefore has a three-part format and students are required to pass three stages in turn to guarantee progression.

Overview

In this double degree, you will complete an Australian Psychology Accreditation Council (APAC) accredited program of study in psychology and a Bachelor of Arts with a multidisciplinary major in international and global studies, society and change, ethics and human rights, community studies, or Australian studies.

Why choose this course?

The Bachelor of Behavioural Science (Psychology) provides a thorough grounding in the scientific bases of psychology, and deals with research and statistical methods that have wide applicability in psychology and other disciplines. You will complete core subjects in development, personality, social psychology, psychological disorders, learning, memory and perception. In your second and third years you are able to explore subjects in contemporary areas such as counselling and family therapy, forensic psychology, addictive behaviours and traffic psychology.

From the Bachelor of Arts you will also develop an understanding of society and the impacts of global, social, environmental and technological change. The high-level communication and social research skills you will acquire are valuable in a wide range of professions. You will gain analytical, research, report writing, communication and interpersonal skills which can be used across many disciplines.

After successful completion of the degree, you may pursue a career in a range of vocations where your skills are valued, undertake further study to become a registered psychologist, or seek postgraduate studies in psychology or other disciplines.

Career Options

The analytical, research and interpersonal skills acquired through the psychology units have a high degree of application in areas such as education, business, built environment, justice studies, health and sport. Some graduates choose careers in related professional and semi-professional areas such as counselling or audiology, which may typically require further specialist study. Other possible career paths include international affairs, government, community development and public policy. You may wish to pursue careers in professional areas of psychology, which will require you to undertake further study and be registered with the State Registration Board.

Recommended Study

Maths A, B or C is recommended.

Psychology Electives

Electives include psychology and gender, human sexuality, psychopharmacology of addictive behaviour, substance abuse, forensic psychology and the law, health psychology, social psychology, occupational psychology, counselling, advanced statistical analysis, and road safety and traffic psychology.

Professional Membership

The Bachelor of Behavioural Science (Psychology) is accredited by the Australian Psychology Accreditation Council. To pursue a career in a professional area of psychology, you must be registered with your State Registration Board. This currently involves completing a fourth year of study in psychology, e.g. Bachelor of Behavioural Science (Honours Psychology) or Postgraduate Diploma in Psychology, followed by either two years of supervised work experience or the completion of an appropriate higher degree such as Doctor of Psychology (Clinical), Master of Clinical Psychology or Master of Psychology (Educational and Development).

Other Course Requirements

blue card As required by the Commission for Children and Young People and Child Guardian Act (2000), students must undergo a criminal history check and be issued with a Blue Card before commencing clinical practice/field experience/practicum in an organisation where they may work with children or young people. For more information, visit <http://bluecard.qut.com>.

Deferment

QUT allows current Year 12 school leavers to defer their undergraduate admission offer for one year, or for six months if offered mid-year admission, except in courses using specific admission requirements such as questionnaires, folios, auditions, prior study or work experience.

Non-year 12 students may also request to defer their QTAC offer on the basis of demonstrated special circumstances.

Find out more on deferment.

Course is under review

QUT is currently reviewing the Arts and Social Science programs to ensure they continue to meet the needs of students and employers. As a result these programs may change in 2008 or may not be offered. You can register for updates on the status of these courses by visiting the Humanities and Human Services website.

Career Opportunities

As a graduate of this course you will receive both a Bachelor of Arts degree and a Bachelor of Applied Science degree. This combination of degrees provides a valuable foundation for a wide range of careers in areas such as government, diplomacy, higher education and public service. Opportunities in tourism, translation, and the hospitality industry are open to those with a Language major. Complementary majors chosen from Arts and Science provide an excellent background for careers in environmental management.

Course Design

A feature of the course design is the flexibility and choice it offers. Students can tailor the double degree to their career interests by combining any one of the 10 majors that are available in the Bachelor of Applied Science (SC01) degree with a specialisation chosen from a wide range of offerings in the humanities.

The program is integrated so that students will study both science and arts units in each semester.

Professional Recognition

Relevant professional bodies for the Bachelor of Applied Science (SC01) are listed under the separate entry for the course. Eligibility for membership depends on the majors undertaken.

Total credit points: 432 (240 cr pts in the BA and 192 cr pts in the BEd)

Course coordinator: Humanities Coordinator: Dr Iraphne Childs; Education Coordinator: Dr Mal Shield

Campus: Gardens Point, Kelvin Grove and Carseldine

NO FURTHER INTAKE INTO THIS COURSE

This course has been replaced by a newly coded IX21 Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Education (Secondary) with effect from 2008.

Career Outcomes

During the Arts component you will specialise in two teaching areas relevant to the secondary school curriculum. The Education component prepares you to teach both areas across years 8 to 12.

Professional Recognition

Graduates are eligible for registration as teachers in Queensland through the Queensland College of Teachers. Graduates looking for employment in other parts of Australia and overseas may be required to meet additional conditions.

Working With Children Check

Working With Children Check - As required by the Commission for Children and Young People and Child Guardian Act (2000), student teachers must undergo a criminal history check and be issued with a Suitability Card (Blue Card) by the Commission.

As soon as you enter your enrolment program for the course, you must submit your Blue Card application to the QUT Student Centre immediately. You must hold a Blue Card to undertake activities in any unit which involves contact with children, including the required field studies blocks.

If you do not apply for a Blue Card immediately upon enrolment in the course and allow sufficient time for the police check and issuing of the Card, you will be unable to participate in the required activities and may need to be withdrawn from the unit(s) and incur both financial and academic penalty. It may take up to 8 weeks for the Commission to issue the Card. The application form is available at bluecard.qut.com.

Deferment

QUT allows current Year 12 school leavers to defer their undergraduate admission offer for one year, or for six months if offered mid-year admission, except in courses using specific admission requirements such as questionnaires, folios, auditions, prior study or work experience.

Non-year 12 students may also request to defer their QTAC offer on the basis of demonstrated special circumstances.

Find out more on deferment.

Computing Requirement

The increased and more creative use of online teaching technology in this degree requires that you have access to suitable computer facilities with a minimum equivalent of a Pentium 3 processor, 56k modem and internet access.

Course is under review

QUT is currently reviewing the Arts and Social Science programs to ensure they continue to meet the needs of students and employers. As a result these programs may change in 2008 or may not be offered. You can register for updates on the status of these courses by visiting the Humanities and Human Services website.

Campus: Gardens Point and Kelvin Grove

Career Outcomes

The Arts component provides an excellent general education for future early childhood specialists. The Bachelor of Education (Early Childhood) provides graduates with the opportunity to be employed in childcare centres, kindergartens, prep year and the lower three grades of primary school.

Professional Recognition

Graduates are eligible for registration as teachers in Queensland through the Queensland College of Teachers. The Early Childhood specialisation is also approved by the Department of Communities for employment in the area of child care. Graduates looking for employment in other parts of Australia and overseas may be required to meet additional conditions.

Working With Children Check

Working With Children Check - As required by the Commission for Children and Young People and Child Guardian Act (2000), student teachers must undergo a criminal history check and be issued with a Suitability Card (Blue Card) by the Commission.

As soon as you enter your enrolment program for the course, you must submit your Blue Card application to the QUT Student Centre immediately. You must hold a Blue Card to undertake activities in any unit which involves contact with children, including the required field studies blocks.

If you do not apply for a Blue Card immediately upon enrolment in the course and allow sufficient time for the police check and issuing of the Card, you will be unable to participate in the required activities and may need to be withdrawn from the unit(s) and incur both financial and academic penalty. It may take up to 12 weeks for the Commission to issue the Card. The application form is available at bluecard.qut.com.

BA Course Requirements - Commencing Students

Students are required to completed at least one of the five multidisciplinary majors (1 core introductory unit plus 6 units in the major). You will choose from International and Global Studies, Society and Change, Ethics and Human Rights, Community Studies and Australian Studies.

As well as the multidisciplinary major, students may also wish to undertake a Discipline Major in one of the following: History, Geography and Environmental Studies, Languages (French, Indonesian, German, Japanese, or Mandarin), Sociology or Political Studies.

Students must maintain a minimum of 50% enrolment in units from the BA program until they have completed eight of these units (96 credit points).

Students may also wish to include:

- an Arts minor/s in any of the multidisciplinary or discipline majors (4 units)
- an approved university minor, or individual electives in another QUT course (up to 4 units)

Students planning to complete a full Language sequence (6 units) will need to discuss their program with the relevant Course Coordinator in order to ensure that they begin their Language studies in first semester and that their language units can be continued into their third year.

NB: Students are required to complete 16 units in the BA component of the double degree. Of these 12 must be BA units i.e. HHB coded units.

Administrator, Community Education Officer, Community Worker, Contract Administrator, Government Officer, Higher Education Worker, Information Officer, Policy Officer, Public Servant.

Course Description

The course consists of 16 arts units and 16 justice units. The program is integrated so that you will study both arts and justice units in each semester. You will choose at least one multidisciplinary arts major from international and global studies, society and change, ethics and human rights, community studies, or Australian studies. In the justice component you will have the opportunity to study areas such as criminology, policing, ethics, crime prevention, justice policy and investigations.

Deferment

QUT allows current Year 12 school leavers to defer their undergraduate admission offer for one year, or for six months if offered mid-year admission, except in courses using specific admission requirements such as questionnaires, folios, auditions, prior study or work experience.

Non-year 12 students may also request to defer their QTAC offer on the basis of demonstrated special circumstances.

Find out more on deferment.

Course description

In this course students complete the requirements of two separate degrees in Arts and Information Technology in four years. The focus of the arts component is social change with an emphasis on understanding societies and the impact of global, social, environmental and technological change on communities and individuals. In the IT component, there is a strong practical component with computing laboratory based units and project work comprising a significant part of the course,

Majors in the Arts component

In the Bachelor of Arts, students choose an multidisciplinary major from one of the following: international and global studies, society and change, ethics and human rights, community studies, or Australian studies.

Majors in the IT component

In the Bachelor of Information Technology, students can choose to major in business systems engineering, data bases, electronic business, games technology, information and knowledge management, information systems, IT management, intelligent systems, interactive media, network systems, security, software architecture, or web services and applications.

Career outcomes

Information technology professionals with a strong knowledge in languages, as well as deep understanding in areas such as international issues, particularly cultures, ethics and human rights, are highly valued by the information technology industry. The Arts component also provides students with a broad-based education and a range of transferable analytical, research and communication skills which will enrich studies in information technology and expand career choices.
