

2021 School of Biomedical Sciences
Scholarships for Masters in Diagnostic Genomics

The Thermo Fisher Scientific Excellence in Genomics Scholarship and the Illumina Scholarship for Diagnostic Genomics are available for individuals enrolled fulltime in QUT's Master of Diagnostic Genomics course. These scholarships have been made available to recognise excellence in Diagnostic Genomics by post-graduate students in the School of Biomedical Sciences, Faculty of Health. Students must be citizens or residents of Australia or New Zealand and enrolled full time (minimum of 3 units per semester) in LS81 Master of Diagnostic Genomics. Previous recipients of either award are ineligible to apply. Your application will be assessed on past academic and professional merit. Each scholarship consists of $5,000 paid in two instalments in semester 1 and semester 2. Successful applicants are requested to maintain a grade point average (GPA) of at least 5.0.
